TWO-DAY NATIONAL SEMINAR

“LEGAL, ETHICAL AND CONTRACTUAL ISSUES IN SPORTS”

JULY 27-28, 2019

About the Seminar:

Sports and Athletics encompass the favourite pass time of several millennial. Commercial Exploitation of this indulgence has paved way to the creation of numerous sporting events or games, in the frame and form of Franchises, Endorsements, Public Appearances, including but not limited to Branding, Image-Building, etc. This wide-spread, growth in Sporting Activities makes its regulation and governance imperative.

The term Sports Law, is a conundrum that which by virtue of itself, is a mere non-existential terminology, but which when looked in through the lens of various applicable laws, Civil, Criminal and Commercial, provides a paradigm shift. The need for this paradigmatic approach was imperative on account of illegal and unethical practices that were purported to be committed by the persons engaged in the Sporting Events or games, including but not limited to actions such as Match-fixing, use of performance enhancing drugs, substance abuse, breach of trust, misrepresentations unethical practices of sports management companies to poach players, indemnity, unreasonable terms, issues of Public Policy in ticket sales, transparency and accountancy of federations and associations and nodal agencies, broader implication of the conflict of interest rule, issues on abuse of dominance and anti-competitive behaviour, etc.

With the advent of media and the commercialisation of sports activities globally, the scope of application of the general law of the land is increasing and necessary. Insurance companies have extended the Risk Coverage from mere physical or mental accidents of Sports Players, to coverage of their Brand Value. Youngsters found to be talented in a particular game, are suddenly thrown into the limelight of endorsements which gives rise to the legal question of the capacity of minors penning contracts and the extent of scope and validity of their guardians and legal representatives to sign on their behalf. The sprouting of Sports Management Companies with their own set of contractual obligations has given rise to questions of enforceability, jurisdiction and extent of validity. The Challenges in regulation of Private Professional Competition Events, Leagues, requires that a comparative analysis of multiple jurisdictions gains significance.

Sports Law, is thus said to have emerged to be a reality, in its very conundrum, and like all other times where a new field or subject of law emerges with the changing times from traditional legal spheres, questions of law, at times even constitutional in nature, emerges, which whence brought before the Judiciary and under the scrutiny of judicial review, a new jurisprudence evolves.

The emergence of Sports law, has involved questions of Competition Law, Intellectual Property Law, Constitutional Law, and even Insurance and other niche areas of Contracts such as endorsements, public policy, moral and ethical conduct of players, Image rights, etc. contested widely with diverging views. The Rights of a player vis-a-vis the Franchise/Club/League in respect of the rights of Endorsement are issues that require deliberation. The matters imperative for consideration inter alia is the submission and challenges faced in Disputes Resolution through Court or Arbitration for Sports, and the Implications of Minor Contracts in matters of Sports.

There is a growing need for the strengthening of the governing/nodal bodies and on the regulatory bodies to develop a robust mechanism that allows for the growth of Sporting Events and activities, with flexibility and agility, as that of the Athletes. This course aims to delve into each of these divergent areas within the ambit of Sports Law in India, to enable the participants to understand and plethora of legal, ethical and commercial issues that arise and the manner in which the government and the judiciary have taken cognizance of the same. The profound attempt like in the past, where Certificate Programmes were conducted will be to provide a comprehensive structure of the Sports Law in India, in the rule books, as well as the game.
