Ten Days Online Workshop on Effective Teaching, Learning and Research in Law - Covid-19 Challenges

Sponsored under the Scheme of RUSA 2.0

(17th - 27th August 2020)

Concept Note

The strength of any university is a competent faculty well-equipped in teaching pedagogy and research. The innovations in the field of science and technology have had an indelible impact even upon the legal domain, and led to the emergence of new dimensions in understanding and applications of laws. It has become imperative for the academicians and researchers to keep pace with the rapid developments taking place both nationally and globally. The primary focus of the training program is to help the participants in updating their knowledge and skills in the domain of law, as well as equip them with the effective tools and techniques for better law teaching, learning and research.

It is aimed that, after this Workshop, the participating academicians and researchers will become aware of various useful teaching skills, tools and also their theoretical, practical approach towards law would be broadened. The participants would get well versed with emerging contemporary challenges in the law and the future prospects. It is also expected that the training would translate into better teaching/ research in their respective fields of interest.

This workshop involves expert guidance from eminent academicians and specialists, interactive sessions, collaborative learning and presentations. In these trying times of COVID-19 pandemic, an innovative approach has been adopted to conduct this workshop completely online using technological tools, without compromising on its quality.

Objectives

This workshop would aim at addressing the issues of effective learning, teaching and research. The primary objectives of the workshop are to:

- Train the participants and update their knowledge for best teaching methodology and practices
- Analyze the effects of Covid-19 on different avenues of Legal Research Teaching and Learning
- Understand the impact of New Education Policy 2020 on Legal Education
