

JUS CULTURA

About 'Aawaaz'

'Aawaaz' is the literary e-magazine of the National Law Institute University, Bhopal under the aegis of their Literary Society, Jus Cultura. It encourages students to ponder upon social issues intellectually and come up with innovations, creativity and imagination with unique solutions or to shed light to a newer aspect, untouched by all.

The magazine has received almost 100 submissions from across the world for its first issue and is looking forward to release its second issue.

Aims and Objectives

Aawaaz aims to manifest the unvoiced sufferings by spreading awareness and penning down the experiences through a space which fosters independent thoughts and innovation, which inculcates a culture of research and ignites conversations on social issues, its impacts on the youth and the society in general.

With the objective of promoting literature and creativity in the minds of young jittery individuals, this magazine encourages the submissions to be more eccentric, full of haywire, raw ideas, unthinkable concepts - in short, it lets your thoughts run free!

Who Can Submit?

Students, academicians, research scholars, and activists are welcome to contribute to the magazine. The deadline for submission is 30th November, 2020.

Structure of the Magazine

This magazine is a quarterly issue and we accept any writing, subject to scrutiny and review, be it poems, stories, opinions, ballads, essays etc. This time we are also inviting entries in the form of caricatures, graffiti, short travelogues and reminiscences. Aawaaz endeavors to provide a platform where authors get to publish work across genres.

The magazine broadly has two sections. The first one deals with diverse content that surrounds one's lifestyle like music, food, art, culture, technology, opinions, satire, movies and the list goes on. The latter part deals with issues that demand seriousness because it aims to create an impact among readers through the sensitive and intellectually-dealt content. For the submissions in latter part, it should fall under the following broad headings:

1. MENTAL HEALTH
2. NEW YEAR, NEW BEGINNINGS
3. CHANGING ROLE OF MEDIA

Kindly note that these topics are simply indicative and the authors are free to submit content on topics that they deem fit for an impactful magazine. It should also be noted that we do not accept mere research papers with no literary significance. The final call will be taken by the editorial team.

Submission Guidelines

1. All submissions to the magazine should be original and should not be simultaneously considered by any other publication. Plagiarized submissions will be rejected.
